

The Eco Lodge Chamonix

What we love...

We love the eco-style sauna pod, with breathtaking views of the Chamonix valley.

There's nothing like the pleasure of knowing that you're in the lap of luxury, enjoying the best of everything, while also doing something good for the environment. So sit back in that hot tub, polish your halo and pour yourself another drink at this luxury ski chalet in Chamonix.

The Eco Lodge was built using green technology to be completely self-sufficient, using renewable energy to power itself. And while it's kind to the environment, its environment is incredibly kind in return, offering simply breath-taking mountain views from almost every room in this luxury ski chalet.

In the light and contemporary living and dining space, floor-to-ceiling windows give you the impression of the Chamonix mountains sloping straight in towards you, sitting comfortably on the sofa. The whole open-plan space has a modern but cosy feel with light woods and neutral shades allowing that astounding view to stand as the focal point of the room.

Five super-comfy and contemporary bedrooms give everyone a relaxing bolthole to retreat to at the end of the day, and there's plenty of room inside to relax – with high-tech gadgets to enjoy, too. An Apple TV and DVD player to catch a movie on and Sonos sound system to choose from mean you're never short of entertainment on a chilly afternoon at your luxury ski chalet.

The jewel in this luxury chalet's crown however, must be its fabulous outdoor facilities. An outdoor hot tub on the terrace has room for up to eight of you to relax, drinks in hand, looking out at the mountain. There's also a sauna 'pod', which has the appearance of 'hanging' off the edge of the property, so from inside you can see nothing but the mountain view. And there's plenty of space for big kids and little kids alike to indulge in snowman-building, toboggan-racing and more. Utterly magical!
