

Villa Can Tramuntana Majorca, Spain

What we love...

We love the seclusion and style in which this villa blends into the forest and mountains, making it one of the finest homes in Mallorca.

Secluded living doesn't get much more picturesque than at Villa Can Tramuntana. Perched high above the mountains near the town of Pollença, this luxury Majorcan mansion is the perfect place to unwind.

Seemingly carved out of the forest, as if by nature itself, the villa has been thoughtfully crafted out of local stone and timber. Archetypal arched windows and high, timber beamed ceilings add a perfect contrast throughout the building whilst the traditional stone and terracotta flooring keeps this gorgeous dwelling cool throughout the summertime.

Surrounded by thick forest and bushland, the house is thus blessed with beautiful birdsong and the gentle Tramuntana winds adding a subtle soundtrack to this marvellous mountain retreat. Swaying palms and Cypress trees are strategically planted around the grounds adding further drama to the piece, all of which combine to create an absolute work of art.

Six luxury bedrooms grace this splendid home, each one vast and in themselves, suites. Four poster beds add that touch of elegance and individually stylish en suite bathrooms accompany each of the rooms perfectly.

When you have coaxed yourself from your morning slumber, head out to the shaded terrace and marvel at the view. Not only will your eyes take you across the boundless Balearic beauty but below you, the pièce de resistance lies awaiting. Carved into the stone, the stunning swimming pool is a short dance down the steps. Surrounded by luxury loungers, a manicured lawn and overlooked by nothing but trees and the Serra de Tramuntana mountains, this will be where your family holiday memories will start and finish.
