

Mansion Ensoleillé Les Gets

What we love...

We love the variety of entertainment spaces, including a TV cabin, and a separate TV room and spa area.

Perched high above Les Gets is a four-storey 'super-chalet' that makes a magical base for a big party of friends or family. Mansion Ensoleillé is a seven-bedroom luxury ski chalet with plenty of room for you all to gather together, find time alone, party and relax.

At the centre of this huge chalet is a spacious living area. Squashy sofas face the roaring fire, armchairs are gathered around occasional tables, ready for a game of cards or a chat... There's always somewhere to enjoy the views and celebrate together, whatever the occasion.

Dining spaces are also plentiful. Eat a quick breakfast in the sunshine at the table in the kitchen window, indulge in fabulous three-course menus in the stylish dining room, or sit at the bar area in the kitchen with a glass of wine while your chef is at work.

There are plenty of places to enjoy a quiet moment too, from the serene office with its bookshelves and library ladder, to the TV 'cabin' with record player and collection of vinyl. And don't forget to plan a movie night in the separate TV room with L-shaped sofas and huge footstools. On nights at home, you could even hold a games marathon of pool or table football, sure to impress kids and big kids, too.

Mansion Ensoleillé's superb spa is a wonderfully calming spot in which to soothe aching muscles and rest your mind. Do a few lengths of the swimming pool before relaxing in the sauna and Jacuzzi. There's even a small gym if you haven't quite exhausted all your energy on the slopes.

After fun-filled days and by bedtime each evening, you'll be ready to retire to the individually decorated en-suite rooms, complete with fluffy robes, slippers and luxury toiletries. Perhaps there will just be time to slip out to the terrace with a nightcap and enjoy the mountain air and watch the stars twinkling over Les Gets before you turn in.

Eating

Eating well is an important part of life at Mansion Ensoleillé. If you choose to take the property on catered basis, you'll start the day with a delicious breakfast to fuel you for an energetic morning on Les Gets' slopes, and then when you return, on six nights of seven, your private chef will prepare a three-course evening meal for you all, along with local wines and beers.

The property is also available self-catered and the kitchen comes well-equipped with everything you could need, including hob, oven and microwave, as well as nice little extras such as a blender and coffee machine, not forgetting the all-important dishwasher.

Whichever you choose, the chalet's concierge service will be in touch with you before your arrival to discuss menus.

The sophisticated dining area with refectory-style table beneath statement lighting is spacious enough to seat your entire party and so comfy you'll find yourself sitting at the table long into the evening. There's also a table in the kitchen for low-key meals and a sociable bar area. If you decide to go out and explore the area's eateries, the chalet's staff will be happy to help with recommendations and bookings.

Kids

This luxury, family-friendly chalet in Les Gets is beautifully set up for families with kids of all ages.

Packed with activities, from the pool table and table football to the separate TV room and TV 'cabin' area. There's an additional TV and digital and analogue games found on the top floor. In the spa there's a swimming pool that kids will love to splash in, while teens might enjoy relaxing in the sauna and Jacuzzi. Younger visitors will be able to make the most of the private garden with its own playground, too.

There are two dorm rooms sleeping between 5 and 9 children in spacious but cosy beds. The additional beds are made up of 4 pull out beds cleverly built into the single beds. A highchair is available for families travelling with babies and toddlers.
