

Villa Eleana Antibes

What we love...

We love the pool terrace with its inviting swimming pool and beautiful, partially shaded dining area.

Combining the privacy of a luxury villa and all the wonderful facilities of a prestigious hotel, Villa Eleana could tick all your boxes.

Step inside the doors of this whitewashed, typically Mediterranean villa and you'll find relaxing rooms, stylishly decorated, and colourful works of art and statement furniture bringing energy to the neutral palette.

The living and dining room accommodates spacious sofas where you can lounge with the papers and a comfy but stylish dining table and chairs for group meals. Doors open out onto the garden and solarium, so you can always hear the sounds of the great outdoors drifting through the living spaces. A kitchen and breakfast room provides space for you or a private chef to cook up a storm, with space for guests to sit with a glass of wine and chat to whoever is cooking.

As well as three stunning en-suite bedrooms, each with king or twin beds and marble bathrooms with showers and bathtubs, there is a quiet study where you can escape for a little peace and quiet.

But it's the outdoor spaces that are the real highlight here. Landscaped gardens surrounded by greenery give you plenty of privacy in which to wander. The swimming pool terrace is enclosed by citrus trees, which smell beautiful as you soak up some sun with a book, or float in the water. Close by is an outdoor living and dining space, so in good weather you can live a truly outdoor life here. With sea views from almost every angle, Villa Eleana's gardens are a heavenly place to relax and recharge.

The property is ideally located, with glamorous locations such as Nice and Cannes within striking distance of Villa Eleana. And as guests of the hotel, you will also be welcome to use the hotel's facilities, from the numerous restaurants and bars, many with views of the water, to the fabulous spa and swimming pool.

With a dedicated butler on hand, as well as chauffeur and chef services when you need them, everything is taken care of. Your only job is to enjoy every moment.
