

Chalet Kitsilano Verbier

What we love...

We love the hot tub and fire pit area out on the wraparound terrace.

Contemporary and cosy, Chalet Kitsilano is the perfect base for your mountain adventure. This luxury ski chalet with hot tub in Verbier is just five minutes by car to the main lift station, putting you close to all the action, yet is tucked away just outside the town so you can enjoy the peace, too.

Inside, a neutral palette and natural materials bring a sense of calm. As soon as you enter the property, you'll find you breathe a little deeper. The open-plan living area is a fabulous spot for evening gatherings with drinks around the fire or simply sprawling with the papers on sunny afternoons on the huge sofas. A large TV on one wall allows you to turn down the lights and host a movie night. Nearby, a dining space with fabulous views from the floor-to-ceiling windows sits close to the kitchen where you can watch your private chef at work.

For those keen to maintain their fitness levels, Chalet Kitsilano has a well-equipped gym. And for those who need a little time to themselves, there's an office where you can read and catch up on emails.

The highlight of this beautiful chalet, however, must be the large wraparound balconies. Take your coffee out there in the morning to enjoy the crisp mountain air, or head out to the hot tub with a glass of bubbly in the evenings for some stargazing. There's even a fire pit for marshmallow toasting while you share stories of the day's mountain adventures.
